

PAWSITIVE IMPACT: DR. MALLORY LINN'S VETERINARY JOURNEY

Dr. Mallory Linn, a native of Hammond, Louisiana, embodies a passion for animals, focusing particularly on small pets while cherishing larger ones equally. At the heart of her home are two beloved dogs, Piggy June and Clyde Edwards, along with a retired horse named Ras and five chickens. Dr. Linn's early years were marked by competitive horse riding, nurturing her deep connection with the outdoors, where she enjoys kayaking, hiking, and working in nature.

HOW HER EXPERIENCE AT LSU INFLUENCED HER JOURNEY

Her journey toward veterinary medicine began at LSU, where she gained invaluable experience as a veterinary assistant. This hands-on exposure honed her skills and grounded her expectations, bridging the gap between theoretical learning and practical application. Dr. Linn recognizes the importance of maintaining a healthy work-life balance, though she acknowledges the challenge of stepping away from demanding cases entirely.
